Section 1: What Ohio Regional Service Committee of Narcotics Anonymous is and How we Operate

- 1.1 (E) The Ohio Regional Service Committee for Narcotics Anonymous (hereafter referred to as ORSCNA) consists of N.A. members working together to serve the Fellowship of N.A. in the Ohio Region, but not as authority over the Region. ORSCNA, operating within its defined and implied responsibilities as directed by the Fellowship of N.A. in the Ohio Region, strives to provide several services as follows:
 - 1.1.1 (E) The primary function of ORSCNA is to unify and aid Areas within the Ohio Region.
 - 1.1.2 (E) In accordance with Tradition Nine of Narcotics Anonymous, ORSCNA is directly responsible to those they serve, and shall be respectful of the Traditions and Concepts in all its affairs and matter of business, keeping the interests of the N.A. Fellowship in the Ohio Region and around the world ever at heart.
 - 1.1.3 (E) Additionally, this Committee is to contribute to the growth of N.A., both by initiating some of the work to be finalized at the World Service Conference, and by helping to support our World Services.
- 1.2 (E) ORSCNA is comprised of elected Regional Committee Members (RCM's) from the member Areas in the Ohio Region, elected Trusted Servants i.e. Chairperson, Vice-Chairperson, Treasurer, Vice-Treasurer, Secretary, Vice-Secretary, Regional Delegate (RD), RD Alternate. An Area is a member of ORSCNA when they say they are.
- 1.3 (I) ORSCNA meets the second weekend of January, April, & July and on the first weekend of October on a rotating basis throughout the Ohio Region. The location of ORSCNA meetings is determined by a lottery of member Areas as follows: NWOASCNA, DASCNA, MEASCNA, FFASCNA, HAMASCNA, GCASCNA, AREA 13, KORASCNA, BLASCNA, FRASCNA, MVASCNA, COASCNA, SASCNA, and MOASCNA.
- 1.4 (I) The Regional Services Committee meeting will be a two-day event. Old business and Subcommittee reports are dealt with on the first day. Subcommittee reports and new business will be dealt with on the second day.
- 1.5 (I) An audio archive of Regional meeting will be maintained for a period of two years.
- 1.6 (E) From time to time there may be a need for an emergency ORSCNA meeting. An emergency meeting may only be called by a majority vote of the member RCM's. The vote is to be tabulated by the RD, with all Trusted Servants and members of ORSCNA being given two weeks (fourteen days) notice prior to such emergency meeting.
- 1.7 (E) The RSC uses the Sample Rules of Order from the Guide to Local Service. Pages 107-114.

Section 2: Voting Procedures at ORSCNA

- 2.1 (E) The voting body of ORSCNA will be made up of the elected RCM's (or RCM Alternates in the RCM's absence) in attendance.
- 2.2 (E) Business of the committee shall be conducted according to ORSCNA Policy and in accordance with the Twelve Traditions of N.A. The passage of motions on the floor of the committee requires a simple YES majority, while motions on the floor that change or make policy and are external in nature, go back to the Areas, and require a 2/3 majority of the voting body. Internal motions that change or make Policy may be voted on immediately by the RCM's present at the Quarterly RSC meeting, but require a 2/3 majority for passage. An abstention does not count in the total numbers of present voting members from which a needed percentage is derived. Unless a situation occurs where there are more abstentions than the total of YES and NO votes, whereupon the motion will be placed on the floor again for further deliberation and clarification. All motions presented to ORSCNA must be seconded prior to any discussion taking place with the exception of motions being brought from areas.
- 2.3 (E) All motions that go back to the areas need to include intent and pro and con for minutes.
- 2.4 (E) In the case of a tie vote, the remaining ORSCNA Trusted Servants will be asked to vote. The collective results of their votes will act as a tiebreaker. After two ties, Regional Chair breaks the tie.
- 2.5 (E) Only RCM's, committee Trusted Servants, (except ORSCNA Chair) and subcommittee Chairs may make or second motions. Any Concerned Member present may participate in the discussion on a motion.
- 2.6 (E) That RCM's act as "Trusted Servants", with the ability to vote on motions that don't affect the individual addict.

Section 3: Elections at ORSCNA

Section 27: Sample Rules Of Order

On the following pages, you'll find a simple set of rules of order. They have been adapted from Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, which in turn are based on the Rules of the US House of Representatives. These sample rules differ in some details from Robert's Rules; to cover such differences, your committee may wish to make a blanket decision to accept these rules as authoritative. In countries where Robert's Rules of Order are not in common use and where some other body of parliamentary rules is more commonly used by deliberative assemblies, service committees may want to Consider adapting these rules so that they conform to those commonly in use in their own lands.

DECORUM STATEMENT

Meetings will be conducted according to these rules of order, adapted from Robert's Rules of Order. This time-honored system for conducting business is the clearest way yet devised for getting a maximum amount of business done in a minimum of time, regardless of the degree of disagreement among the participants.

These rules are meant to be used as tools to help us make orderly collective decisions in a cooperative, respectful way in the spirit of our Twelve Concepts; please do not use them as weapons against one another. We encourage all participants to become familiar with these rules of order and conduct themselves accordingly.

Once the meeting is under way, only one matter will be before the committee at any one time and no other discussion is in order. Please respect the chairperson's right to be in control of the process of this meeting so that you can have maximum benefit of its content.

DEBATE, LIMITS

Debate is the formal exchange of views on an idea. Unless otherwise specified, debate on both main motions and parliamentary motions is usually limited to two or three pros and two or three cons (speakers for and against the motion). Speakers addressing a motion in debate usually have two or three minutes in which to speak their minds.

MOTIONS

There are two basic types of motions. It is important to understand the difference between them. The two kinds of motions are main motions and parliamentary motions.

MAIN MOTIONS

A motion is a statement of an idea a committee member wants the committee to put into practice. After being recognized by the chairperson, the member says, "I move that such-and-such be done by (this committee, one of its subcommittees, or a particular individual) under these terms." The person making the motion then speaks briefly about why he or she feels the idea is important; this is called speaking to the intent of a motion. Because the exact wording of all motions must be recorded in the minutes, the maker of the motion should write it out whenever possible. This is especially important for long or complicated motions.

Every motion requires a second--the backing of another person who either wants the idea put into practice or simply wants to see further discussion of the idea take place. After one person makes a motion, the chairperson will ask whether the motion has a second. The seconder simply raises a hand and, when recognized by the chair, says, "I second that." If nobody seconds a motion, the chair will say, "The motion dies for lack of a second." This means that the idea will not be discussed any further because there is not enough interest in it. The committee then moves on to other business.

Once a motion has been made, the chairperson may rule it out of order. A motion may be ruled out of order for any one of a number of reasons: the motion goes against the committee's standing policy, clearly contradicts one of the Twelve Traditions or Twelve Concepts for NA Service, or is inappropriate at the particular point in the meeting at which it is made. Robert's Rules of Order can be consulted for more specific examples of motions, which are out of order at any given time.

Any member of the committee who wishes to challenge a ruling made by the chairperson may appeal that ruling, as described below. If no appeal is made, or if the decision of the chair is upheld, the committee moves on to other business.

PARLIAMENTARY MOTIONS

Parliamentary motions can be best understood as "sub-motions" made during debate on a main motion that affect that motion in some way. There are many more of these than space and practicality permit us to include here, but a few that seem to be the most practical are discussed below.

1. Motion to AMEND.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is DEBATABLE.

This is perhaps the most commonly used parliamentary motion. During debate on a motion, if a member feels that the motion would benefit from a change in its language, that member can say, "I move to amend the motion..." and suggest specific language changes in the motion. Ordinarily, an amendment must be moved and seconded before it can be debated. When debate on the amendment is exhausted, the body votes on the amendment. Then, debate resumes on the merits of the main motion (as amended, if the amendment has carried). When debate is exhausted on the merits of the main motion itself, a vote is taken and the body moves on to the next item of business.

If an amendment is offered and the persons making and seconding the original motion accept it, no second is required, no debate is called for, and no vote need be taken on the amendment; debate proceeds as if the main motion had been formally amended. This is called making a friendly amendment.

2. Motion to call the PREVIOUS QUESTION.

TWO-THIRDS majority required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

For our purposes, this may be the most important parliamentary motion. Use It often. This motion is made by a member saying, "I call for the question," or "I move the previous question." It is another way of saying, "I move that debate stop right now and that we vote immediately." This is one of many motions that can be used to prevent needless, lengthy debate once an issue is clearly understood. This motion is in order after any speaker is finished. You need not be called on. The chair must recognize you when you make this motion, and a vote must be taken with no debate. If two-thirds of the body feels that no more debate is necessary, then it is time to vote and move on.

One point worth making about this motion is that you must be careful not to squelch debate before an issue has been thoroughly aired. Be sure to vote "no" to this motion if you are still confused about the issue at hand or are unsure of how to vote. By allowing debate to continue, we avoid half-baked decisions about half-understood questions. On the other hand, the liberal use of this motion makes it unnecessary for the chair to be heavy-handed in stopping discussion, because the chair knows you will stop it soon enough.

3. Motion to TABLE.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

One way of disposing of a motion that is not ready for a vote is to table it. This is done by saying, “I move we table this motion until such-and-such a date/meeting.” This motion is not debatable; if it is made and seconded, it is voted on immediately. If it fails, debate continues on the motion itself. If it passes, the committee moves on to its next item of business. The tabled motion will be included in the committee agenda on the date specified.

4. Motion to REMOVE FROM THE TABLE.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

A motion that has been tabled can be taken up before the time originally set in the motion to table. This is done by saying, “I move to remove from the table the motion to such-and-such.” If this motion passes, the motion that had been tabled becomes the main motion and debate on it begins again. If the motion to remove from the table fails, the body moves on to the next item of business.

5. Motion to REFER.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is DEBATABLE.

Sometimes the committee does not have enough information to make an immediate decision on a main motion. Such motions can be removed from debate and sent to either a standing subcommittee or an ad hoc committee for further study. This can be done by a member saying, “I move to refer the motion to the such-and-such subcommittee.” If the motion to refer is seconded, the body may debate it before voting. If the motion to refer passes, the committee moves on to its next item of business. If the motion to refer does not pass, the committee either continues debating the main motion or votes on it.

The subcommittee to which a motion is referred will take it up at its next meeting. The subcommittee will report back on what it has come up with at the next meeting of the full committee.

6. Motions to RECONSIDER or RESCIND.

MAJORITY required varies.

Is DEBATABLE.

Sometimes a member feels that a motion the committee has passed will prove harmful. That member can move to either reconsider (reopen for debate and voting) or rescind (void the effect of) the original motion.

There are a few conditions on motions to reconsider or rescind:

- ❖ The motion must have been passed in either the last months or the current meeting.
- ❖ The member making the motion must have information on the issue that was not available in the original debate on the motion.
- ❖ The member must have been with the winning side in the original vote.

These limits are placed to protect the committee from having to reconsider again and again the motions it passes while still allowing it to examine potentially harmful situations it has created inadvertently. If any of these requirements are not met, the chairperson will declare the motion out of order.

The motion to reconsider requires a simple majority.

The motion to rescind requires a simple majority, provided that committee members were informed prior to the meeting that such a motion would be made. If prior notice is not given, the motion to rescind requires a two-thirds majority.

7. Request to WITHDRAW A MOTION.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

Once a motion is made and the debate begins, the maker of the motion may ask to withdraw it. The chair asks if there are any objections. If there is even one objection, the motion stays on the floor and debate resumes. If there are no objections, the motion is withdrawn and the body moves on.

8. Offering a SUBSTITUTE MOTION.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is DEBATABLE.

A substitute motion is the same thing as an amendment to a main motion. The only difference is that it is offered to entirely replace the original idea, instead of merely revising a portion of it. It is handled in the same way an amendment is handled.

9. Motion to ADJOURN.

SIMPLE majority required.

Is NOT DEBATABLE.

Any voting member may move to adjourn at any time. This motion is always in order, is not debatable, and requires a simple majority to pass. Obviously frivolous motions to adjourn may be ruled out of order. After all business is finished, the chair may declare the meeting adjourned without a motion.

OTHER PROCEDURES

In addition to parliamentary motions, there are other ways in which members may alter or clarify the proceedings. Here are a few of the most common.

Order of the day

If a committee member feels that business is going too far astray from the original agenda, that member can help get things back on track. The member says, "I call for the order of the day." This means, "I move that the chair bring us back on track and conduct the meeting according to procedure, adhering to the agenda." This does not require a second, is not debatable, and does not even require a vote--the chairperson is obligated to enforce the request unless two thirds of the body tells the chair otherwise.

Point of information

If a committee member needs certain information before making a decision about a motion at hand, that member can say at any time to the chairperson, "Point of information." This means, "I have a question to ask," not "I have information to offer." One does not need a second to raise a point of information; it is neither debatable nor to be voted upon. The person raising the point of information may ask the question of either the chairperson or another member of the body.

Point of order

If it appears to a committee member that something is happening in violation of the rules of order, and if the chairperson has not yet done anything about it, the member can ask the chairperson for clarification of the rules at any time. The member may simply say out loud, “Point of order.” The chairperson then says, “What is your point of order?” The member then states the question and asks the chairperson for clarification. If the chair agrees that the rules are not being followed, the chair says “Your point is well taken” and restates the appropriate rule. If the chair does not agree, the chair says, “Overruled.” This decision, as all others, can be appealed.

Point of appeal

Any time the chair makes a decision, that decision may be appealed. Any voting member who wishes to appeal a decision may do so by saying, “I appeal the decision of the chair.” If the appeal is seconded, the chair then asks, “On what grounds do you appeal my decision?” The member states the reasons. The chairperson then speaks briefly to the intent of the ruling being appealed. The body may then debate the ruling and the merits of the appeal. A vote is taken, requiring a simple majority to overrule the original decision of the chair.

Parliamentary inquiry

If a committee member wants to do something but doesn’t know how it fits in with the rules of order, all that member has to do is ask. At any time, a member may simply say out loud, “Point of parliamentary inquiry.” The chairperson must immediately recognize the member so that person may ask how to do such-and-such. The chair will answer the question, possibly by referring to a specific passage in this document in explanation. A point of parliamentary inquiry needs no second, is not debatable, and is not voted upon.

Point of personal privilege

If the smoke is getting too heavy for you, the air conditioner or heater is on too high, or if there is too much noise in the room, you can ask that something be done about it. If the matter is urgent, you may interrupt the proceedings by saying, “Point of personal privilege;” if the matter is not particularly urgent, you are encouraged to wait until the person speaking has finished. Such a request generally requires no second, and the chair must recognize you immediately. State the situation and ask that it be corrected. If your request seems reasonable, the chair will accommodate you.

VOTING PROCEDURES

There are several ways that votes can be taken. The most commonly used method is the show of hands. With rare exceptions, votes will be taken by a request from the chair to see the hands of all in favor, then all opposed, then all abstaining on each issue. The chair should ask for all three categories every time, just to be thorough, even when the majority is overwhelming.

These are only brief notes on rules of order for business meetings. For further information, see Robert’s Rules of Order—Newly Revised.

- 4.) A list of all donations shall be kept. Records shall include donor name, amount of donation, check #, and date of issue. Frequent donors (Areas, groups that give regularly, etc.) shall be listed separately. RCM's may request a list of donations at any time. A report shall be given to each regular donor annually.
- 5.) All deposits are to be made within 14 days of receiving them.

DISBURSEMENT OF FUNDS

- 2.) No one may under and circumstances endorse a check that is not fully written, that is, the check must contain the payee, amount and date.
- 3.) In the event that the treasurer needs to pay a bill between meetings, and cannot contact a co-signer in person, they shall mail the fully written check along with an addressed stamped envelope to a co-signer. It is the responsibility of the co-signer to then notify the treasurer within 2 days that the check was endorsed and mailed.
- 4.) It is the responsibility of the treasurer and the co-signer to insure that any payment is a legitimate expense of the region. If there is any reason to believe that the regional body has not approved an expense, DO NOT ISSUE OR ENDORSE THE CHECK until the question has been resolved.
- 5.) Any voided checks shall be clearly marked void and kept on file to prevent any missing check numbers.
- 6.) The Treasurer will hand out an expense form with each check (that is NOT for reimbursement of funds) that is dispersed. The Treasurer will make sure that receipts are returned with the form and that match the value of the check that was dispersed. Also, a ledger will be used to track the expense forms to make sure they are all accounted for.

RECEIPTS AND DOCUMENTATION

- 1.) A receipt or invoice for each check must be kept. Receipt of invoice should be clearly marked with corresponding check # and date of issue. Receipts or invoices shall be kept in an organized system, so as to facilitate an audit (i.e., NOT thrown in a box).

 - a.) All requests for funding should be itemized (i.e., X amount of dollars for travel, X amount of dollars for lodging, X amount of dollars for meal, etc.)
 - b.) All persons receiving funds are required to turn in receipts to treasurer. For large multi-item expenses, an expense form is also required.

- d.) All persons requesting funds or reimbursement for attending an event (learning day, World event, etc.) are requested to turn in a flyer or other proof of the actual occurrence of an event so that an outside auditing agency shall be able to verify that this was a legitimate N.A. event.
- e.) It is the responsibility of both the treasurer and co-signer to verify that all expenses are legitimate. If there are any doubts that any expense or portion of an expense is excessive, above that approved by the region, or not related to the actual approved expense, DO NOT issue or endorse the check until such questions are resolved.

AUDITING/COUNTER-BALANCES

- 1.) The treasurer shall balance the books against the bank statement upon receiving each statement.
- 2.) The vice-chair shall review the account activity on line including deposits and checks each month.
- 3.) An ad-hoc auditing committee consisting of 5 members (the outgoing Treasurer, the incoming Treasurer, the incoming Chairperson, the incoming Vice-Chairperson, and the incoming Vice-Treasurer) shall be appointed annually to audit the books. The ad-hoc auditing committee shall complete the following tasks in order to determine the status of the ORSCNA Treasury. If any irregularities are found between annual audits or if a new treasurer is elected midterm, an audit committee shall be appointed at once. After an audit is completed, the new/incoming Treasurer shall change the online account password and give the new password to the appropriate trusted servants.
 - a.) Validate the check register balance since the last audit by making sure all debits and credits add up accordingly and are logged correctly.
 - b.) Reconcile all bank statements (along with all cancelled checks and deposit records) against the check register. Balance the check register against each monthly bank statement to verify the account balance.
 - c.) Verify that all receipts written from the receipt book total what monies came in and that those monies equal the amounts deposited to the checking account.
 - d.) Verify that all disbursements of funds are accounted for with valid receipts & financial forms and were appropriate expenditures.
 - e.) If applicable, verify that all expenses & income are accounted for on the general ledger.
- 4.) All check stubs, bank statements, voided checks, from the previous and current quarter must be brought to the region each quarter.
- 5.) A treasurer's report shall be given at each regional meeting to include check number, payee and amount of any check written or donation received since last report. As well as a current balance and a full report on any discrepancies with bank statement.
- 6.) The Treasurer and Vice-Treasurer formulated a checklist, which incorporates the checks and balances that ORSCNA has in place for the treasury. The checklist will be followed by the Treasurer during the RSC meeting, signed by all involved, and included in the minutes.
